

CHAPTER NINE THE MUSIC OF THE SPHERES

When I was a child, I asked my grandfather, who was beginning to teach me to play the piano, why there were 88 keys on the piano. He didn't know, nor did I find any clues until last winter, on a beach in Mexico, while stargazing. I was beginning to study astronomy and, I noted, there are 88 constellations known to mankind, 88 constellations known to influence our lives here on earth. Microcosm and macrocosm are intimately intertwined. Of course! The vibrational progression on a piano keyboard and the celestial, musical progression throughout the spheres, are based upon the same principles. As within, so without!

Using the piano keyboard as metaphor, I would suggest that our earth, as part of our solar system, as part of the Milky Way Galaxy, as all this spirals forward through universal space, we gradually ascend through, and are bathed in, an ascending scale of frequencies. As we thus progress through universal space, moving upwards along this celestial keyboard, this living matrix profoundly affects our lives here on earth. Just as astrology gives some indication of how various planets, stars and constellations impact our individual lives, so this more expansive movement through universal space affects our collective consciousness and experience here on earth.

I would suggest that a note on this celestial keyboard, represents 25,920 years, and that we, at any particular time, are moving through a specific note, frequency, or vibrational signature. Within this "26,000" year cycle, exists a finer measure of time, one of 2,160 years, the time it takes to move through a House, or Sign, in the Zodiac.

We are currently departing Pisces. This transition into Aquarius is underway and will cross a threshold of completion in 2012, marking not the end of time, not the end of the world as some fear, but simply a shift from one House in the Zodiac into the next. Simultaneously, other significant cycles are concluding, their next cycles beginning. We will conclude a 25,920 year cycle, a complete round of the Zodiac, and will begin a new 12 House cycle.¹⁴ We too are about to cross the ecliptic of the Milky Way Galaxy, moving from one side of the galaxy to the other, thereby bathing the earth in a new and different vibration. A propitious time indeed, and all life throughout the cosmos is cheering us on!

Following my third "Oneness Blessing"™, a transfer of energy which assists in the process of deepening one's connection to divine presence, I lay down and was awash with memory from a council meeting in Lemuria, 18,000 years ago. The earth had entered a sector in universal space dominated by a different frequency. This experience was akin to moving from a white note on the piano keyboard, to a black note. The key of earth transposed down into an entirely different key. According to this glimpse into ancient memory, this vibrational shift allowed for the birth of a rebellion in the consciousness of many inhabitants of Lemuria, or Mu, The Motherland. They began wanting different results in the outer, material world.

Our lengthy meeting concluded. Many of us were in tears, me included. We acknowledged what we had to do, which was to leave the planet in the hands of those who wanted to manipulate the world of form. Sadly, seeing well into the future, we perceived much of the disaster which was to follow. We understood that if we remained on earth, holding the spiritual polarity intact, the continuing rebellion would intensify, and our inevitable need to ascend would result in even greater disaster. We recognised it would likely be a long 18,000 years until this chosen direction would be resolved.

Until this rebellion away from Spirit emerged, it had been normal to pay homage to Spirit as unquestioned source, and express life's loving current of blessing into the earth. We tended and kept our Garden Planet, assisting everything to rise to its next highest level of vibration. All had moved well this way for hundreds of thousands of years, and something was changing.

In this new vibration or key, the thought began to emerge that things could be "better" in the material world than Spirit was presenting. Improvements could be made, indeed had to be made, simply because they could be made.

This rebellion grew from initiation nearly 26,000 years ago to fever pitch a little more than 18,000 years ago. Our body of governing "frequency holders" saw that such "judging of good and evil", making choices based dominantly upon physical form, rather than on Spirit, was folly, and would ultimately lead to even greater folly. But try as we might to show the wisdom of serving Spirit first, those who rebelled wanted to pursue their "improved" choices, and manipulate the material world.

Those who held the spiritual frequency left the 3rd dimension. There was a mass ascension. The result to both the planet and the human psyche remains profoundly apparent to this day.

The conscious focus, the conscious orientation, which remained on earth, represented a 180-degree shift, from inner to outer, from Spirit to form. With the spiritual vibration no longer dominant, the earth reversed polarity, north to south, reflecting the polarity of those who remained on the planet. As within, so without, from worship of Spirit within, to worship of form, the material, external world beyond.

And the earth stopped spinning.

The Bible speaks clearly of the sun not setting for a day, which means, simply, the earth stopped rotating. "And he said, in the sight of Israel, "Sun, stand thou still upon Gibeon; and thou Moon, in the valley of Ajalon. And the sun stood still and the moon stayed, until the people had avenged themselves upon their enemies. So the sun stood still in the midst of the heaven, and hasted not to go down about a whole day." 15.

Other ancient records speak of it being dark for a day, or more, in other parts of the world, at this and other catastrophic times in earth's history. "In the manuscripts of Avila and Molina, who collected the traditions of the Indians of the New World, it is related that the sun did not appear for five days, a cosmic collision of stars preceded the cataclysm; people and animals tried to escape to mountain caves. Scarcely had they reached there, when the sea, breaking out of bounds following a terrifying shock, began the rise of the Pacific coast. But as the sea rose, filling the valleys and the plains around, the mountain of Ancasmarcha rose too, like a ship on the waves. During the five days that this cataclysm lasted, the sun did not show its face, and the earth remained in darkness."¹⁶

You may wonder about gravity, certainly much on the surface of the earth would fly off into space. For millennia, commonly accepted reality included the concept of the earth being flat. The flat earth theory long ago was relegated to the dustbin. If the earth stopped spinning, would much on the earth's surface fly off into space? How does gravity truly work? Perhaps it's more remarkable that things don't fly off the surface of the earth while it's spinning. Again, as Mark Twain glibly observed, "What gets us into trouble is not what we don't know, it's what we know for sure, that just ain't so."

Because the uplifting, ascending substance of Spirit was gone, the earth shrank. According to Uranda's recollection, this is when many mountain ranges arose. The earth then resembled a shrivelled pea.

The effect this has had upon collective consciousness is explored in Velikovsky's posthumously published work, "Mankind in Amnesia".

"The global catastrophes of ancient times...had devastating effects on the human psyche. Collectively, mankind acts like an amnesia victim seeking to relive a traumatic experience. Though surrounded by literary, geological, and astronomical evidence of our violent heritage, we try to avoid the realisation that earth-wrenching cataclysms have occurred-as recently as a hundred generations ago. Yet only by understanding our past can we overcome the urge to re-enact the scene of planetary devastation....The horrifying truth, so long as it remains unrecognised, is a powerful force urging us towards doom."¹⁷

Carl Jung adds his thoughts to our consideration. "As we know from ancient Egyptian history, there are symptoms of psychic changes that always appear at the end of one Platonic month and at the beginning of another. They are, it seems, changes in the constellation of psychic dominants, of the archetypes or "Gods" as they used to be called, which bring about, or accompany, long lasting transformations of the collective psyche. This transformation started within the historical tradition and left traces behind within it, first in the transition of the Age of Taurus to that of Aries, and then from Aries to Pisces, whose beginning coincides with the rise of Christianity.

"We are now nearing that great change which may be expected when the spring-point enters Aquarius.

"I am, to be quite frank, concerned for all those that are unprepared by the events in question and disconcerted by their incomprehensible nature. Since, as far as I know, no one else has yet felt moved to examine and set forth the possible psychic consequences of this foreseeable change, I deem it my duty to do what I can in this respect. I undertake this thankless task in the expectation that my chisel will make no impression on the hard stone it meets." 18.

Viewing our current world situation, politically, economically, environmentally, militarily, interpersonally, and internationally we are due to remember; Carl Jung's chisel is due to make profound impressions on our collective stony heart and ossified mind, or we are, indeed, immediately facing much more pain and suffering.

The earth, in its cataclysmic past, also entered a period of intergalactic isolation, of solitary confinement. The self-imprisoned inmates had chosen isolation from universal Spirit, otherwise omnipresent throughout the universe. Universal intelligence would not allow the effects of the earth's inhabitants, in denial of their Spiritual source, to extend far into the universe. As we reawaken, such events as "Fire the Grid" of July 17, 2007 help us recall the universal energies which flow into and through the earth, and throughout the universe, for which we are responsible. We will explore more of this later in the book.

Let us return to the "fallen" situation.

The "Children of Men", as they are spoken of biblically, who remained, forgot their divine origins. Leaders in the judgement oriented, mind based rebellion, claimed to serve as sole intercessors, representing god. The concept of an external god, a source other than one's own innate Spirit, was crafted to allow the new overlords to control and manipulate the population.

Mankind felt naked and ashamed, no longer clothed in the radiance and deep wisdom of Spirit. Direct, personal experience of union with Spirit, moving in flow with life, was gone.

All this sounds remarkably close to the story of Adam and Eve, expelled from the Garden of Eden. But, by this accounting, the residents of earth were not expelled from Heaven, unfortunate victims tossed out of The Kingdom. Rather, they chose this circumstance, by eating "of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil", by judging. 19. By not letting life flow, as an expression of Spirit. By thinking that their ideas, that manipulating the world of form, a level of vibration below them, was to their advantage.

With Lemuria gone, they started over with what remained of their former lives, in Atlantis. Over the next seven to eight thousand years an advanced civilisation developed. Yet through that cycle, life was much more difficult. Trauma from the cataclysmic sinking of Lemuria was deeply etched in the collective unconscious.

There was talk of original sin, of a vengeful god. Yet sin, meaning without, points clearly to the problem. They chose to continue to live without Spirit. They interpreted need for sacrifice, to appease their conceived, terrible, creator god, fearing more cataclysms would occur. As throughout recorded history, so it was in Atlantis, that many powerful, awakened beings incarnated and sought to inspire the population to awaken to their greater reality as spiritual beings with vehicles for earthly expression. But, as has been apparent throughout history, and as is evident in our current world situation, the lesson was not, and has not yet, been learned.

Seven to eight thousand years passed in Atlantis, then again, there was a collective, though smaller, ascension. Atlantis too, sank beneath the waves. As humankind settled into even deeper denial of Spirit, as best I have come to understand, the axis of the earth's rotation shifted from 0 degrees to the 23 1/2 degrees known until very recently. Thus began the process of precession, the apparent backward movement of the earth through the Houses of the Zodiac. Perhaps life, in its wisdom, was presenting fallen mankind with a celestial reminder of its origins, and an opportunity to reawaken to universal Spirit. Scientists currently tell us that this angle of tilt has been shifting in recent years, and now approaches only 12 degrees off true. This reflects, I suspect, the awakening to Spirit currently underway. If this is so, then the shifting may well continue to zero degrees sometime between 2012 and 2020, as we fully realign with Spirit and universal flow.

With Atlantis settled beneath the sea, and the axis of spin changed by 23 1/2 degrees, celestial observation, long honoured as a means of understanding relationship with spiritual origin, cycles of time, and our place in the universe, then engendered fear and consternation in the fallen residents of planet earth. The world and its apparent celestial context suddenly had become very different.

The Mayan Calendar presents another piece vital to this puzzle. The Maya, and numerous indigenous peoples world-wide, were aware of the original 360 day cycle during which the earth orbited the Sun. They noted this cycle had changed at some point in ancient time, to the 365 1/4 days it now takes to complete this orbit. My understanding is that this shift too, occurred 18,000 years ago, when Lemuria sank into the Pacific. Not only had the earth stopped spinning, reversed polarity, collapsed and begun spinning in reverse to what it had previously, its orbit also became eccentric and took 5 1/4 days longer to circle the sun.

The Maya also recognised a concurrently running 260 day cycle, which calibrates the corkscrewing motion of the earth, as part of our solar system, as part of the Milky Way Galaxy, all of which moves through universal space and returns to the same position as 260 days prior, but one round up the spiral, along the "celestial keyboard" mentioned earlier. This movement, the Maya noted, predicated very specific, progressive changes in human consciousness, experienced individually and collectively.

Time continued, through pre-history, through dense, heavy times, through the deepest part of this 26,000 year cycle, which is now concluding in this early part of the 21st century. Through Sumeria, Babylon, Egypt, Greece and Rome, the vibration began to increase. Civilisations would emerge, but always the same blind repetition of unconscious habit would settle, like a fog or viral infection, over the collective consciousness, and cause the collective past to repeat. The civilisation would sour and self-destruct.
